Aid Society Entertained.

Wednesday afternoon the Ladies' Aid Society of the Adamston Methodist Episcopal church was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Arthur Kidd of that place. The usual devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. A. S. Arnett, after which the business of the society was conducted. At a seasonable hour the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. E. W. Sullivan, served dainty refreshments.

Those attending the meeting of the society were Mrs. John Britton, Mrs. William O'Neil, Mrs. George M. Smith, Mrs. Cecil Sullivan and son, Bernard; the Rev. A. S. Arnett, Mrs. Peter Burg, Mrs. Lona Halpenny, Mrs. A. S. Arnett, Mrs. E. W. Sullivan, Mrs. Annie Gracore, Mrs. Carl Drummond, Mrs. John B. Sherman, and Mrs. W. H. Palmer.

GYPSY VIOLINIST'S WIFE WILL GIVE UP HER HUSBAND TO HIS FIRST LOVE

Janet Rigo and Mrs. Casper Emerson Rigo.

Madame Janet Rigo, who was Mrs. Casper Emerson of Philadelphia, has announced that she will give up her famous gypsy violinist husband in favor of his first wife, Princess Chimay, whom he left more than ten years ago in order to marry Mrs. Emerson. The present Madame Rigo is a first cousin of the first Madame Rigo, who says she can't stop loving the gypsy violinist.

ENGLISH QUAKERS ARE NON-FIGHTERS

And They Are among the Non-Combatant Corps of the British Armies.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 8.—Unique among all the variegated units of the armies on the continent is the British non-combatant corps—the conscientious objectors, who do not want to fight and who are not expected to fight. Not far but conscience is their reason for being excused.

In England, where individual rights are so strongly recognized, the Quaker is not required to bear arms because it is against his religious scruples.

When conscription was applied, another class arose. They said they had conscientious scruples against the taking of life. If they would not fight then they must work, the government decided. Where a man who enters the army under normal conditions must drill for many months before he is sent to the front, the conscientious objector is given a few days drill, put in khaki, and sent to France at once. There he holds the spade instead of the rifle.

"There are the N. C. C.'s doing their bit," said their commander, an officer with a strip of colors on his breast, who had been in several campaigns and was so badly wounded in this war that he was hardly fit for active service. They get the same pay as the men in the trenches and the same rations, with extra allowance of meat which is given to the laborers' corps.

At the time, the N. C. C.'s were engaged in some railway work. Virtually all are men unused to manual labor; but though it was pretty hard at first they said they would be injured to it in time. One was a B. A. of Cambridge University. None had any complaints to make. The majority were clerks, and those who were not were usually shopkeepers. Many were members of the Plymouth Brethren, a sect which holds much the same views as the Quakers. These said that it was against their creed to fight and they would not renounce their creed. They spoke quite frankly about the charge of cowardice which is made against them; and seemed to realize that they were the anathema and laughing stock of the millions of their fellow countrymen who are offering their lives for Britain.

"I do not want to kill anybody. I do not believe in war," one said. An exponent of passive resistance he was ready to work at command, but no powers could make him fight. "If we are sent up to work under shell fire I think that you will find that most of us will not flinch," he added.

One of the unilitary characteristics which amuse the average British soldier is that the N. C. C.'s all address one another as "Mister." One mentioned that their conversation around the mess table was very "intellectual" and thoroughly enjoyable.

"If you want any proof that England is a free country," said a sergeant of regulars, "you have it in this lot. How much chance would a band of conscientious objectors stand in Germany? Meanwhile the fighting army protects them from the enemy and from public opinion. But let them have their way. There aren't many of them."

A shirker may not suddenly become a conscientious objector in order to escape service. Any one who aspires to the N. C. C. must prove that he held conscientious scruples against fighting before the war. One conscientious objector has already deserted. This backslider decided to fight and he is back in England drilling in a line regiment.

REPULSED

Of a Powerful German Attack with Heavy Losses is Announced by the French.

PARIS, June 8.—The repulse of a powerful German attack on Fort Vaux with heavy losses to the attackers is announced in an official statement issued by the war office Wednesday. Violent bombardment of the fort is still being carried on by the Germans.

The attack on Fort Vaux started at 8 o'clock Tuesday and was promptly checked by the fire of the French machine guns. It is announced that the Germans retreated in disorder. At 11:30 an artillery duel is in progress and also at the Caurettes wood. Tow German patrols which tried to cross the river Aisne, west of Reims, were dispersed.

STUBBORN ECZEMA HEALED BY AMOLOX

We are daily receiving letters of praise from people who have been cured by Amolox. Many of them tell how, for years, they have tried different remedies and doctors in the vain effort to find relief. Some become discouraged and lose all hope of ever being cured. E. R. Frisbee, 187 Sycamore St., Mansfield, O., writes: "Our baby's face was covered with eczema scales, sores and scabs. She was a pitiable sight. We tried everything. Took her to Pittsburgh doctors but were unable to find any relief until we used Amolox. It cured her within a short time."

Amolox ointment will quickly heal pimples on the face, red nose, and minor skin troubles. Chronic cases of dry or moist scaly eczema require both the ointment and liquid to effect a cure. At all drug stores. Trial size, 50c. Recommended and guaranteed by Wells-Haymaker Co. Advertisement.

J. WORTH CARNAHAN HELD AS PERJURER

Washington Man Arrested on Pennsylvania Indictments and Held for Police.

A Washington, D. C. newspaper of recent date, contains the following of interest here, owing to the fact that the man therein was a chief promoter of the Merry Mining Company here a few years ago, in which many local people got "burnt":

J. Worth Carnahan, of 336 C. street northwest, said to be president of the Wilmont Steel Wheel Company, was arrested yesterday by officials of Butler county, Pa., who say they hold two indictments against him. The Pennsylvania authorities want Carnahan on charges of perjury and false pretenses.

When arrested Carnahan refused to talk and immediately instituted habeas corpus proceedings to obtain his release from custody. The case will be taken up on June 9.

Extradition papers on the two indictments are expected to arrive here for the case is continued. County Detective Paul J. Tobey, who made the complaint, is expected to come to Washington for Carnahan.

SEA WRECK

Is Reported by a Swedish Steamer but Whose It Does Not Know.

LONDON, June 8.—A despatch from Copenhagen says that the Swedish steamer Vanda passed the wreck of a gigantic warship on Saturday, the nationality of which it was unable to ascertain. Hundreds of bodies were floating around the wreck and for three hours the Vanda steamed among dead sailors. Near the spot where the wreck was encountered the wreck of a big sailing vessel, apparently an innocent victim of the Jutland battle, was sighted.

THERE ON TIME.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The West Virginia delegation to the Republican convention remained at home Tuesday because of the primaries and although they did not start for Chicago until night were among the first delegations in their seats. They took breakfast on the train and came direct to the convention hall. They plan to caucus in their seats.

RACE SUICIDE

Is Not on the Increase in Berlin According to Statistics.

BERLIN, June 8.—Latest available statistics do not indicate that race suicide is on the increase in Berlin. February figures show that five mothers, ranging in age from 40 to 45 years, gave birth respectively to their sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth child. Three women had their fourteenth child, eleven bore their thirteenth, eight their twelfth, five their eleventh and seven their tenth. The records tell of the births of four teen pairs of twins in February.

The Inner Secret of New Post Toasties

A glance at one of these new corn flakes reveals novel, little bubbles which are raised by the quick, intense heat of a new process of manufacture.

These bubbles are an identifying feature of these—the only corn flakes with a self-developed, delicious corn flavour—the only flakes that do not have to depend largely on cream and sugar for palatability.

Try some of the New Toasties dry—they're good that way—the children munch them like candy. But of course the delicious new flavour is more pronounced when the flakes are served with sugar and cream.

The New Post Toasties do not waste into "chaff" in the package, and they don't mush down in cream like other flakes. They're a vast improvement over old-fashioned corn flakes and have met with enthusiastic approval everywhere.
